SCHOOL IS RESUMED MONDAY MORNING AT WASHINGTON HIGH

Practice Begins On Show Scheduled for This Semester

After forgetting school worries for two weeks of holiday relaxation, students and faculty of the Washington Union high school, at Centerville, returned to their places Monday morning ready to begin anew the tasks that were left at the beginning of the vacation.

Three new students registered at the high school on the opening day. They are Alfred Bonner, a freshman from St. Ignatius high school, in San Francisco; Claude Marthond, a freshman from San Francisco Polytechnic high, and Wesley Raso, a sophomore from Roosevelt Junior high school, of Richmond. Approximately 440 students are now enrolled at the high school.

A bright and shining exterior greeted the classes as they assembled in their rooms, for the floors had been rewaxed during the holidays.

Arrangements have been made for the minstrel and vaudeville show, to be staged by the high school later in the term, and the cast began practice for the production this week under the direction of Miss Aubrey Nicely, dramatics coach.

NUMERAL PLACEMENT SPONSORED THROUGH NILES CIVIC CHAMBER

Important Session Slated For Niles Chamber Next Week

With detailed plans for numbering of houses and buildings in Niles completed, numbers are ready to be put on at once, was the announcement made by J. A. Silva, chairman of the house numbering committee, at the Tuesday session of the Niles Chamber of Commerce.

Information as to what numbers have been assigned to the various houses and buildings is available from a map in Jones & Ellsworth office, in Niles, on which the committee has worked out the numbering plans. A number has been provided for every twelve and a half feet in a block.

In order to assure uniform numbering, it was suggested by Silva the Niles civic body employ a man to canvass Niles and obtain the consent of house owners to having their number placed on at the charge of twenty-five cents each, which also includes payment for the number. After the one employed has secured the consent of the owners to the numbering, he will obtain the numerals which are in the hands of George Bond, at the P. C. Hansen Lumber company, and place them on. With the work of numbering performed by one individual, correct and uniform location is certain.

The new numbers are aluminum and will present an attractive appearance on houses and buildings. When the work is completed, the Niles Chamber of Commerce will have an accomplishment to their credit that will prove a decided asset to Niles.

Lee H. Newbert, district manager of the east bay division of the Pacific Gas and Electric company, was present as a guest at Tuesday's gathering and gave

DINI DETHRONED BY BLACOW AS NILES GOLF KING

"Uneasy lies the head who wears a crown." Perhaps this Shakespearean adage may have been lurking in his mind to offer grim forebodings like the Damascuban sword, or perhaps he met his master, but in any event "Curley" Dini no longer wears the Niles golfing crown which he has so confidently flaunted before all challengers during the past two weeks.

For that coveted mythical laurel, after its brief tenure on the broad and imposing brow of the MacMarr meat cutter, now adorns the russet colored head of "Jumping" Joe Blacow, who at his stride swings a mean golf stick, as was demonstrated Sunday when he dethroned Dini in a twenty-seven hole match at the San Jose Golf and Country club. Charley Coyle and Jack Williamson, two other claimants to entry in Niles hall of golfing fame, also succumbed to the effective driving and slicing of the genial newly-crowned Niles golf king.

"Jumping" Joe's victory was decisive, for at the conclusion of twenty-seven holes of medal play, the score cards revealed the following counts: Blacow, 102; Coyle, 118; Dini, 119; and Williamson, 123.

With excellent weather greeting the four players early Sunday morning, all teed off with resolute intentions of putting forth every golfing resource in the effort to bring home the title to Niles niblick wielding championship. As a result, play was even during the first six greens.

On the sixth hole, Dini's wild flourishes brought him into several difficulties, while Blacow's superlative drives and approach shots began to tell, and at the conclusion of the ninth green Joe was three up on the field, with Williamson tied with Dini, while Coyle brought up the rear.

Blacow continued his steady play as the game progressed and captured all but one of the remaining holes after the twelfth had been passed. The most sparkling shot of the match came on the fifteenth green, when Coyle, displaying the ability with which heroes of the fairway are made, electrified the others by nonchalantly sinking a forty-two foot putt to take the hole with a birdie. Blacow also scintillated at this stage with the longest drive of the day, giving the little white pellet an approximately 275 feet ride, and followed with a brassie shot that placed him on the green in two strokes.

Williamson was a constant threat up until the fifteenth, sixteenth and seventeenth holes proved his waterloo, taking enough strokes on these three to remove him as a serious contender for first honors in the match.

With Blacow assured of victory as the four started on the home stretch, Coyle and Dini battled for second best honors, which were not decided until the last hole was reached. Tension at this point found Dini swinging vigorously and wildly, sending two balls out of bounds and the third shot into the creek, while Coyle after a good drive to the fairway

NEW MANAGER FOR NILES MAC MARR MARKET

With the opening this Friday of a new MacMarr market in Centerville, Charles Coyle, until now manager of the Niles store, moves to take charge of the new Centerville unit.

Coyle's place in Niles will be taken by Rex Broyles, who has been working in the local store for the past two weeks, getting acquainted with Niles people.

Rex Broyles

Broyles, with his wife and kiddies, has taken up his residence here and has expressed himelf as being delighted with the town of Niles and the people who live here. He has had several years of grocery experience in many parts of the United States, he declared, but nowhere has he found conditions more pleasant and congenial.

The remainder of the staff in the Niles store will remain unchanged. Mae Fields and Eugene Justus will assist Broyles in the grocery and produce departments, while Arthur Dini will continue as manager of the meat department.

The new Centerville store is located in the Masonic nail building, opposite the fire house. Besides Manager Coyle, Fred King and Roscoe Farmer, well known in Niles and Centerville, will be employed in the new store.

COUNTY TAX RETURNS SHOW GAIN OVER 1930 REPORTS AUDITOR ROSS

ANALYSIS REVEALS COUNTY BUSINESS IN GOOD CONDITION

With delinquent tax money pouring in and with some eleven thousand pay warrants of all types to be made ready for January first, holiday week means little in the office of County Auditor Horace P. Ross.

"Christmas, New Years and Fourth of July come and go, but the work of county government goes on forever," Auditor Ross declared last week. "Our office is charged with keeping account of every cent that comes in or goes out in maintaining county work. In the last month, for instance, our office collected over $121,000 in delinquent taxes, redeemed and cancelled over $200,000 in county bonds and coupons, and in this last holiday week we had to cancel over half a million more bonds and coupons and prepare and sign for mailing over 11,000 individual warrants. That is quite a task, but we like it, for it means county business is keeping up."

The pay warrants requiring the eleven thousand signatures in the Auditor's office are roughly divided into the following groups, according to Auditor Ross:

General Payroll

Old Age Pensions	1122
Indigent Blind	198
Incapacitated Parents	40
Half Orphan Aid	538
Employee Roll	2102

(Last item includes not only regular county employees, but part time workers, road laborers, etc.)

NILES SCHOOL PUPILS RESUME STUDIES AFTER HOLIDAY RELAXATION

TOWNSHIP BOYS ENJOY TRIP TO YOSEMITE PARK

The Township Register worked a short staff last week when the able services of Karl Nordvik, correspondent, and Frank Ferry, utility man at the Register office, were missing due to a trip made by the boys to Yosemite Valley, where they enjoyed the winter sports. Others in the party were Billy Dick, of Centerville; Paul Aust, of Mission San Jose, and Gordon Pond, of Irvington.

Skiing and ice skating as well as entertaining girl friends were among the diversions enjoyed by the boys on their six-days stay. They returned to their homes last Saturday afternoon.

Principals for the Minstrel Show To Be Selected This Week

Forgetting the pleasures of the Christmas holidays and Santa Claus until another year, approximately 375 children arose Monday morning and trooped back to the Niles grammar school to settle down to three months of serious school work.

Refreshed by a two weeks' vacation, both faculty and pupils returned to their duties with light hearts and cheerful faces, somewhat glad to get back into the regular routine of scholastic endeavor.

Members of the teaching staff did not have the opportunity to enjoy the holiday season to the extent which the pupils did, due to teachers' institute and county examinations, but, nevertheless, managed to find some time for relaxation and rest in preparation for the school term which began Monday and will continue until the Easter vacation during the latter part of March.

A slight gain in attendance over that at the close of school for the holidays was reported by E. D. Bristow, principal.

Miss Morrison, a cadet teacher from San Jose State Teachers College, began teaching at the Niles school Monday morning. She will remain for about six weeks, and will do work in the third, fourth, seventh, and eighth grades.

Characters for the minstrel show to be presented by the Niles grammar school pupils early in the spring will be selected this week, and practice will begin soon after. Over sixty pupils will take part in this entertaining presentation which is staged every year. It is considered one of the school's outstanding events of the year from the standpoint of school activities.

Highlights on the program included a musical program and a banquet followed by addresses by various legion officials.

ENTERTAIN AT DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Crane entertained at dinner New Year's day for Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Silvia, of Pleasanton, and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Rice and son, of Oakland.

Water Directors Express Views On Vital Subject

On the occasion of the first regular meeting in 1932, the directors of the Alameda County Water District take the opportunity of stating their position on some matters of public interest.

There seems to be considerable misunderstanding of the situation confronting the directors, yet the taxpayers certainly are well justified in a demand for strict economy, both by this and other public bodies. In regard to taxes, let it be said that the directors heartily agree, and ever since last spring have been looking earnestly for the first opportunity when it might seem safe to cut expenses. They think this may now be done without serious danger, and have taken action to make a very decided saving. This has not been advisable before, because, until very recently, the District has had important litigation impending or threatening, and could not risk being caught unprepared in either the legal or the engineering departments. This risk is now nearly ended, and may be treated as a secondary matter.

Furthermore, it does not seem to be fully appreciated that when the District bought the East Bay pumping rights at Alvarado, it was forced by the City of Oakland, and against the protests of our directors, to take over with those rights the two decrepit town water systems of Newark and Alvarado, and the territory between Alvarado and San Lorenzo. These were operating at a loss and in the first few months cost us alarming sums of money to operate and keep in repair, and, since public opinion evidently would not allow them to be sold to private companies, there was nothing to do but put them in first class order, and make such alterations as would put them on a paying basis. This has now been, in the main, provided for, but it should be appreciated that that sort of thing costs money, and money can be provided only by taxes, and that such construction requires expert advice. In this connection it should be plainly understood that the offer, by private interests, to buy the two systems was for the purpose of supplying the people within the district, and provided that no additional water should be pumped outside of it, so there was at no time any question of giving up any acquired water rights.

It should be definitely understood, also, that by far the main purpose of the Water District was, and is, the preservation and conservation of its remaining water supply. This is not only for the benefit of the farming districts, but most decidedly, also, for the benefit of the six towns within the district. Compared with this, the serving of water to two of these towns, though important, is certainly secondary to the purpose for which the district was formed.

Perhaps a part of the misunderstanding among some people of the District is as a result of certain articles some time ago in

ALAMEDA COUNTY WILL NOT SUPPORT SPECIAL SESSION

Advise Legislature Beyond Board's Province Says Chairman

The movement originating in southern California to force a special session of the state legislature to act on a program for unemployment will not be supported by Alameda county was the decision made by the board of supervisors at their meeting last week. The decision was made after filing the letter received from Senator George W. Rochester, of Los Angeles, inviting cooperation in a demand for a special session to be made upon Governor James Rolph, Jr., within the next week.

It is the opinion of the board of supervisors the question of what the legislature shocld do, if anything, is beyond their province.

"A special session of the legislature at this time is none of our business," stated Supervisor William J. Hamilton, the board's chairman. "This board doesn't believe that it has the right to tell the legislature what it should do or when it should meet. We assume that the legislature knows its business, we assume, likewise, that Governor Rolph knows whether he would be warranted in calling the legislature into special session and that he does not require any advice on the matter from us."

Reason for the enthusiasm among the southern California legislators for a special session may be due to political motives, it was hinted by some of the board members. It is said some of the solons south of the Tehachapi have congressional ambitions, and a special session of the state legislature might prove the limelight which would be advantageous in campaigns for nomination at the August primary.

AUTO DEATHS IN COUNTY ARE HEAVY DURING PAST YEAR

Six Die In Washington Township, Figures Reveal

A toll of 167 lives were exacted by automobile crashes in Alameda county during 1931, according to figures compiled by officials, which were released last week.

Of this number, two met death at Niles, one at Newark, one at Alvarado, one at Decoto, one at Sunol, and nine at Hayward.

Fourteen persons were killed in Oakland at the hands of hit-run drivers, while twenty-six persons received serious injuries by motorists who failed to halt and render aid, following an accident.

Ninety-six persons were killed in Oakland during 1931, while 2,260 persons were injured, in 2,542 accidents.

Saturday was termed the worst day of the week, from the standpoint of number and seriousness of accidents, and the hours between 6 and 8 p. m. were shown to be the times when the greatest numbers were struck by automobiles.

Death at the wheel of an automobile was highest in Berkeley during 1931, when a total of fourteen lives were lost. Livermore came next, with eleven deaths registered as a result of automobile crashes.

The greater number of dead and injured resulted from crashes between automobiles, although the toll resulting from pedestrians being struck was great, the records show.

Various county and city officials united last week with officials of the East Bay Safety Council, in calling atteneion to the large number of deaths and injuries, and appealing to motorists to try to make 1932 a "Drive Carefully" year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Crothers and daughters, from Eureka, visited Mrs. S. Bonner on New Year's day.

MEXICANS GIVEN 60 DAY SENTENCE BY JUDGE NORRIS

Officials Are Determined to Curb Lawless Element In Alvarado

Sounding a warning to the lawless element which seems to inhabit the Mexican portion of Alvarado, Justice of the Peace Allen G. Norris sentenced Tony Quiros and Carlos Ramirez, Alvarado Mexicans, to sixty days in the county jail for interfering with an officer in pursuit of his duty, in the Centerville court Tuesday, December 29.

The pair came to the aid of their friend, Valdermo Gonsales, after Night Patrolman Bates had arrested him for alien possession of firearms in Alvarado, Christmas morning. The trio escaped from the officer, but were later arrested and brought to Centerville.

Gonzales appeared before Judge Norris this week on the charge of alien possession of firearms and was held over to the grand jury.

Mexicans from the Alvarado section have been giving both Judge Norris, of Centerville, and Judge Silva, of Niles, a great deal of trouble lately, and the two judges are determined to curb this lawless streak by imposing severe sentences for any offenses committed.

YOUTHS ARE GIVEN 90 DAYS BEFORE JUDGMENT

After pleading guilty to pilfering nine cases of potato chips from a truck in Irvington, William Stewart and Chester Rose, Irvington youths, were allowed ninety days before judgment, in the Centerville justice court last Tuesday afternoon. Judge J. A. Silva sat in the place of Judge Allen G. Norris.

Andrew Woodward, of San Jose, the driver of the truck, was eating in an Irvington restaurant at the time the potato chips were taken.

Because the youths were members of respected families and that liquor had been rsponsible for their downfall, was the reason given by Judge Silva for reserving judgment.

Mr. and Mrs. George Emerson spent New Year's day at their summer home at Paradise Park.

WASHINGTON HIGH HOOP SQUADS PREPARE FOR OPENING LEAGUE TILT

Fast Livermore Quintets to Form Competition for Tuesday Night

With the opening of school on Monday morning sport interest at Washington Union high school, at Centerville, is centered on basketball, which will occupy most of the attention during the next two months.

League competition for the A and B teams will open next Tuesday night, January 12, when the Cornhuskers will tangle with the speedy Livermore fives at the Washington high gym. Livermore has dropped only one game during practice contests before the holidays, and gives promise of proving a serious challenger for league honors this year.

Coach Jess Regli has been busy drilling both his A and B squads for the initial league game, and intensive practice sessions were in order this week. Prospects of a winning five are brightest with the B hoopers, who have displayed a flashy brand of ball in the practice games played before the holidays. Although Coach Regli is somewhat sceptical of the chances for the A basket cagers to annex the championship this year he is determined they shall present a more serious obstacle to overcome than last year, which was the first season of basketball at Washington high.

The last practice game before the league opening was held last night with Santa Clara high.

A large number of men have been turning out for practice for both A and B quintets. The regular A five will be selected from the following men: Itsuo Fudena, Edward Rose, Arthur Fereira, Elmo Grimmer, George Mederios, Joe Rodrigues, Vasco Salvordorini, Jack Rathbone, Glen Trout, Manuel Fontes, Don Fuller, Arthur Mederios, and John Coley.

JOIN CENTERVILLE WATER SYSTEM WITH SCHOOL

Assuring more adequate protection for both Washington Union high school and Centerville, work of connecting the two water systems was completed during the Christmas holidays, thus making it possible to draw upon both systems in the case of necessity.

Moving of fire hydrants about the high school in order that they can be reached by the Centerville fire department in case of a blaze also has been done.

FOR REAL THRILLS HUNT WILD PIGS SAYS JESS REGLI

Although the pursuits to which individuals lend themselves during the holiday and vacation seasons vary, most people prefer to spend the Christmas holidays in rest and relaxation, accompanied by enjoyment of such gastronomic delights as Christmas and New Year's dinners always bring. But not so Jess Regli, physical education instructor and athletic coach at the Washington Union high school.

Scoffing at the lethargic mode of existence induced by the Yuletide respite from his regular habits of vigorous action, Regli sought excitement by going gunning for wild boars in the wilds of Healdsburg, where his wife and he spent the holidays.

Real wild pigs, too, and anyone who is dubious as to the authenticity of his tale can visit the high school laboratory where mute testimony to the existence of these ferocious animals is provided by the head of a mammoth porker bagged by the trusty rifle of the straight shooting Regli. Its long tuskers are sufficient to cause a shudder to pass through the frame of those with the stoutest hearts, and after gazing upon the fierce countenance of this beast, one can well understand Regli's contention that hunting these savage denizens brings about more rapid action of the circulatory organs and produces thrills satisfying to the most red-blooded individual.

Interest Rate On Savings Deposits Suffers Reduction

In line with recent financial trends, banks in Oakland and adjacent cities will reduce the interest rate paid on savings deposits from 4 per cent to 3¾ per cent, dating from January 1. For the half-year just closed, interest has been paid at the old rate of 4 per cent. Official notice of the change was made today in the following announcement:

"Effective January 1, 1932, interest on savings accounts and term deposits will be computed by all banks in Alameda and Contra Costa counties at a rate not exceeding 3¾ per cent per annum."

"This action was taken for the better protection of depositors," explained a local banker yesterday. "Banks like to keep themselves in liquid shape; that is, to carry on hand enough cash, and short-term investments readily cashable, to anticipate any demands that may be made upon them. Idle money earns little or nothing, and the earnings of high-grade investments, such as U. S. Treasury notes and bonds, are quite small. So our constant problem is to deal liberally with our customers, and at the same time to maintain a strong cash position and earn a reasonable return on our capital.

"In adjusting the savings interest rate, Oakland and other Alameda county cities are only following the example set by banks in most other parts of California and the country in general. Six months ago the rate was reduced rfom 4 to 3½ per cent in several of the larger cities of the state. In most of the country, including the Pacific Northwest, the prevailing rate for many years has been 3 per cent. In this area we have endeavored to maintain the old rate as long as possible, but the change now seems timely, and we firmly believe it is to the best adventage of bank customers, as well as of the bank themselves."

SUCCESSFUL business men no longer consider hand-tailoring an unnecessary or expensive refinement. Compare the fine differences in appearance and fit of suits made definitely for YOU and not to the mold of a million others. There's character to tailored clothes—personality — comfort, lasting newness, and wearability. Well tailored clothes have style and distinction — successful men have learned to insist upon, for they realize it costs no more. A suit here will cost as little as you paid for a ready-made last year—it will render twice the pleasure.

ABSOLVE NILES MAN IN AUTO DEATH AT INQUEST

Leland S. Stivers, of Niles, who was charged with manslaughter after his car had struck and killed Joseph Fernandes, near the latter's home in Hayward, early on Christmas eve, was absolved of all blame in the accident at a coroner's inquest held last Wednesday afternoon, December 30.

The jury exonerated Stivers after Traffic Officer George Barron, of the state highway patrol, testified that Fernandes was walking on the wrong side of the street in rainy weather at the time of the accident. Stivers said he failed to see the man until his car struck him.

Stivers, who has been at liberty under $1000 bail, was scheduled to answer the manslaughter charge Wednesday (yesterday afternoon), in the Hayward court.

POPULAR SUNOL WOMAN CALLED BY DEATH

Death claimed one of Sunol and Pleasanton's most popular young woman Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. Charles Andrade, of Sunol, passed away at a San Jose hospiat from complications brought on by an appendicitis operation.

Mrs. Andrade underwent an operation three weeks ago, and was on the road to recovery when gangrene set in. For the last two weeks, she had been given blood transfusions which kept her alive for a time, but she failed to rally as was expected and finally succumbed Wednesday.

The deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mendoza, of Sunol, who survive to mourn her death, as well as her husband, four brothers, and two sisters. These are Charles Andrade, her husband, Jesse, Alfred, Alvin, Vernon, Vivian, and Hazel Mendoza, all of Sunol, and Mrs. N. S. Garcia, of Turlock, and Mrs. Gregory Perry, of Alvarado.

Mrs. Andrade was a graduate of Sunol grammar school and the Amador Joint Union high school, of Pleasanton. She was well-known and liked in both communities. Her marriage to Andrade occurred in August, 1930.

Improvement Is Noted in Sewer Farm Conditions

Pleasanton People Invited to Witness the Work Accomplished

Conditions at the Pleasanton sewer farm seem to be decidedly improved since the sludge tanks were cleaned out about three months ago.

During recent months there have been few occasions when any odor has been noticeable to passersby, and what little odor has been noticed has been much less offensive than the stench of a few months ago, according to competant observers.

The Pleasanton council deserves credit for improvement effected at the farm, says Peter Madsen, who supervised the work to correct the offensive conditions which existed in the past.

The cause of the trouble was the clogged condition of the sludge tanks. Cleaning the tanks removed hundreds of yards of material which had accumulated in the tanks, and which should have been removed at regular intervals, but was not.

An explanation of the action of the tanks will demonstrate how the offensive condition of the past summer came about:

The function of the sludge tanks is to remove all poisons from the sewage and to transform it into a form which may be naturally disposed of without offensive odors.

There are two tanks at the farm, each performing the same work. The tanks are rectangular in shape, the bottoms of which have a gentle slope from one end to the other. The tops of the tanks are level with the surface of the ground.

Waste material enters a tank at the high end. It is immediately attacked by a tiny bug, which normally lives on sewage which is not exposed to sunlight. Under the action of the bug, the sewage is separated into three separate forms.

The first is the sludge proper, which is a harmless, odorless solid matter. The sludge sinks to the bottom of the tank and is prevented from running out the lower end of the tank by baffle boards on the bottom running crosswise to the slope.

On top of the sludge floats an odorless liquid which continually drains out the lower end of the tank and spreads over the field to evaporate. It is in this form that the bulk of the sewage is disposed of.

On top of the liqid forms a gaseous, bubbly "mat". On the mat thrives a second form of life, a tiny, winged insect. All poisons and bacteria in the sewage end up in the mat, where they are devoured by the insect.

To insure efficient operation of the tank the sludge must be kept down by periodically removing it. It was an overaccumulation of sludge which caused the tanks to function improperly and allow sewage poisons to remain in the liquid as it drained from the tank. When it evaporated, noxious odors resulted.

Madsen stated that he would like to have Pleasanton people see just what has been done at the sewer farm, and consequently has issued an invitation to all who care to, to inspect the premises. Either he, himself, or Pleasanton City Engineer Sinclair will conduct any person through that city's sewage disposal plant, if those so desiring will notify either of them, Madsen stated.

bowel trouble

Constipation may very easily become chronic after forty. And any continued constipation at that time of life may bring attacks of piles and a host of other unpleasant disorders.

Watch your bowels at any age. Guard them with particular care after forty. Whenever they need any help, remember a doctor should know what is best for them.

"Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin" is a doctor's prescription for the bowels. Tested by 47 years' practice, it has been found thoroughly effective in relieving constipation and its ills for men, women and children of all ages. It has proven perfectly safe even for babies. Made from fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other harmless ingredients, it cannot gripe; will not sicken you or weaken you; can be used without harm as often as your breath is bad, or when your tongue is coated; whenever a headachy, bilious, gassy condition warns of constipation.

AMERICAN DEAD IN FRENCH SOIL

Suresnes, under the frowning ramparts of Fort Valerien just outside of Paris, has most of the graves of Americans who died of wounds in hospitals in Paris. All other cemeteries are on ground captured by the American troops. The dead buried in them either fell on this ground or in combat in the general region of which the cemetery is the center. By insistence on this rule, General Pershing, as chairman of the American battle monuments commission, gave the soldier burial on the battlefield on which he fought, with the exception of those killed in minor engagements. Incidentally, this has resulted in the cemeteries varying in size roughly in proportion to the importance of the battle.

The wooden grave markers originally erected in the cemeteries have been replaced by white marble headstones—a cross for those of Christian faith, a shield of David for those of Jewish faith. Each headstone has inscribed on it the full name of the soldier, his rank, regiment, division, state from which he came, and date of his death.

These headstones are more than three feet high and stand as individual and imperishable monuments to those who gave their lives. Here and there is a grave of one who remains unknown, the headstone bearing the inscription: "Here rests in honored glory an American soldier known but to God."

Nowhere else in the world can be found cemeteries more beautiful, more restful, more thoroughly cared for than these plots of consecrated soil to which mothers and widows make their pilgrimage. Flowers, trees and shrubbery laid out by skillful hands of trained landscape gardeners and nurtured with tender care, lend a quiet beauty to these final resting places of our hero dead. The American flag, Symbol of the glorious tradition which inspired these men in life to offer themselves in their country's cause, floats in silent tribute over the graves. At each cemetery is an American caretaker, himself a veteran of the war, one who knows through what these men went and whose heart is in the duty he keeps. In addition to his routine, he extends a welcome to those who came to the cemetery.

One of the points on which General Pershing has been particularly insistent is that besides rest rooms in each cemetery, there must be a chapel into which relatives can go to prayer and religious consolation. These memorial chapels are imposing structures, having been designed by some of the most prominent architects in the United States and the designs approved by the national commission of fine arts. The chapels will be monumental in nature, beautiful, restful and impressive. On the walls of the chapels will be inscriptions to the men who gave their lives. They will also bear individual inscriptions giving the name, rank, organization, date of death and the home state of men who still sleep in unknown graves.

KITCHEN CUPBOARD

By NELLIE MAXWELL

"Rise with the lark, and with the lark to bed"
Observes some solemn, sentimental owl;
Maxims like these are very cheaply said;
But ere you make yourself a fool or fowl,
Pray just inquire about his rise and fall,
And whether larks have any beds at all.

—John Godfrey Saxe.

Different Good Things

WHEN preparing a mayonnaise dressing add when serving it a little whipped cream and one or two hard-cooked eggs chopped fine. A little chopped onion with seasoning also adds to the dressing. Serve on plain lettuce as it may be preferred.

Piquant Sandwiches.—Cream together one cream cheese and two tablespoonfuls of peanut butter. Chop one hard-cooked egg very fine, add one chopped sour pickle and a tablespoonful of chopped green pepper, add salt and pepper and spread on buttered bread.

Savory Sandwiches.—Brown in one tablespoonful of oil one-half cupful of blanched almonds. Chop fine, season well with salt, paprika and add two tablespoonfuls of chopped pickles and one tablespoonful of chutney. Spread bread or crackers with cream cheese, or an equal quantity of cottage cheese; sprinkle with the almond mixture.

For a vegetable dinner try:

Carrots and Onions.—The forehanded housewife when the garden carrots were pulled for thinning canned many of the little new vegetables for winter use. Reheat a can of these small carrots and season well with butter with a dash of lemon juice. Heap them in the middle of a large chop plate. Arrange around the buttered carrots six rounds of toasted and buttered bread. On the bread place three or four small onions which have been well seasoned with salt, pepper and butter. Pour over each a tablespoonful of hot cream and serve.

Horns of Plenty.—Fry thin sliced boiled ham, roll up in the shape of horns, skewer with toothpicks and fill with buttered peas or any creamed vegetable.

Rainfall Passes Normal Figure for Pleasanton

Week-End Deluge Causes Floods and Road Washouts

The deluge of two weeks ago brought the rainfall for Pleasanton and vicinity by last Thursday up to 10.94 inches, a figure that is almost three tinches above the average figure for that time last year.

According to the record kept by Pleasanton City Engineer Sinclair since 1917, the average rainfall at that time of year is eight inches. Last year at this date only 3.14 inches of rain had fallen.

The week-end drenching caused small floods and considerable damage to roads in the vicinity.

Farm houses near Dublin stood in the middle of fair-sized lakes last Monday morning. Many fields in the lowlands between Santa Rita and Dublin and along the hop-yard road were completely flooded.

The Arroyo del Valle has more water in it than it has seen half a dozen years.

A short stretch of the highway between Santa Rita and Dublin was completely awash.

The rain is proving, in that vicinity, of inestimable value in boosting the countryside back to prosperity.

Oats and barley are the two crops being benefited most at present. Orchardists are grateful for the present rain and the return to normal rainfall in anticipation of next year's fruit harvest. Thirsty vineyards are also benefiting.

If the rain continues to keep normal or above for the remainder of the season, a plentiful reserve supply of water will be assured for next year's tomato crop.

Alfalfa growers have reason to be joyful, and cattlemen are glad to see the hills turning green, thus providing the stock with range feed, which they sadly lacked last year.

I. O. O. F. LODGE SEAT OFFICERS AT PLEASANTON

Entire Staff of Leaders Re-Elected at Meeting Last Month

Officers for the neighbors of Woodcraft, of Pleasanton, will be installed at a meeting to be held at the Odd Fellows' hall Friday evening, January 8, according to reports made last week.

Mrs. Lizzies Richardson will act as installing officer for the evening. The Palm Circle, of Hayward, will assist in the installation exercises. A large attendance is expected, including a number of visitors from the bay city circles. At the close of the business meeting refreshments will be served.

The officers to be installed were all re-elected for another term at a meeting held last month. They will serve office for one year.

Those who will be seated Friday are Grace Brommer, past guard neighbor; Carry Bedsworth, guard neighbor; Mable Rosa, advisor; Mary Sylvia, magician; Edith Ziegenfuss, clerk; Anna E. Wells, banker; Katherine Bottini, attendant; Carolyn Doucette, captain guard; Mildred Taylor, inside sentinel; Julia Crommie, outside sentinal; Hazel Tirrill, musician; Minnie Vervais, Lizzie Richardson and Anna Silva, managers.

NEW PLEASANTON STREET LIGHTS ARE BIG BENEFIT

The Pleasanton street lights have proved to be very successful in lighting the entire main street of the city, a street which heretofore has been very dark and gloomy.

NEW MEMBERSHIP FOR PLEASANTON LEGION-AUXILIARY

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fiorio To Lead Enrollment Campaigns

During the next few months the Pleasanton American Legion post and Auxiliary will conduct a membership drive for increasing the enrollment of their units, according to Commander Charles Fiorio, of that place.

Mrs. Charles Fiorio will head the campaign for the Auxiliary, and Commander Fiorio will lead the Post.

The outstanding requirement for admission into the legion is that the candidate must have served in the World War.

To join the auxiliary, one must be a wife, mother, or sister of a World War veteran.

All those who fit the above requirements have been asked to get in touch with either of the leaders of the campaign.

Initiation of members into the two organizations will be held at a joint meeting in February.

The next regular meeting of both units will be held at the legion club rooms on Wednesday evening, January 13.

Pleasanton Lions Change To Semi-Monthly Meetings

Pleasanton Lions' Club will meet on the first and third Wednesday of every month after the first of the year, according to action taken at a meeting of that organization held at Ratti's Restaurant last Tuesday night.

During the past the club has met every Tuesday night. The change in meeting dates is the result of a careful survey of the meetings of other organizations of the town, and was adopted in order to avoid a conflict of dates.

During the month of January, the club will meet at Letham's at 6:30 p. m.

Reports of committees appointed at previous meetings showed that the club had provided seventeen boxes containing Christmas dinners, and had furnished Christmas trees for the children at Rose avenue cottage and at the Children's Kiddie Home on Vineyard avenue.

According to president A. B. Pickard, the program for 1932 will be discussed at the next meeting.

Farm Home Group Plans Party For Its New Members

Arrangements for an afternoon party to be held for members of the Pleasanton Farm Home department at the new home of Mrs. Charles Fiorio, of Pleasanton, on January 14, were announced last week by Mrs. Fiorio ond Mrs. Ollie Page, who will act as hostesses for the occasion.

A membership drive was recently sponsored by the Farm Home Department, which was divided into two sides, with Mrs. Fiorio as captain of one and Mrs. Page as captain of the other. It was agreed that the losing side would give a party for the winners. In the drive, fifty new members were secured, each captain claiming twenty-five for her side. As a result of the tie, Mrs. Fiorio and Mrs. Page decided to entertain together.

The members will be entertained at cards and refreshments will be served. Mrs. Marietta Holman, of Hayward, Farm Home Demonstration Agent, will not be present.

Poet's Lyric Tribute to Queen of Beauty

Julian Hawthorne saw a great deal of Joaquin Miller, the "Poet of the Sierras," when both were living in London years ago, a writer in the Kansas City Times tells us. At a garden party at which Lillie Langtry—then in the first bloom of her beauty—was the center of attraction, Hawthorne introduced the poet to the ravishing Jersey Lily.

"I left them talking prosperously," relates Hawthorne in his reminiscences, "Shapes That Pass," "but Joaquin came hastening after me in a few moments.

"'Have you got a bit of paper?' he asked. 'I have a pencil; she wants me to write her a lyric.'

"I found an old envelope in my pocket," adds Julian, "he seized it, and squatting down on the turf, where I left him scribbling and went back to keep Lillie till he was ready. It seemed hardly five minutes before he came stalking toward us smiling in his yellow beard and waving the envelope."

And here is the lyric. Hawthorne says he does not think it has been in print till now:

If all God's earth a garden were,
And all the women flowers,
And I a bee that buzzed there
Through the summer hours,
Oh I would buzz the garden through
For honey—till I came to you!

Bird "Alarm Clocks."

Living alarm clocks are quite the think in Liberia. The little pepper bird takes it upon himself to wake up the Liberians every morning. Possibly the bird is aware that the natives cannot have the regular sort of alarm clocks because the climate takes all the alarm out of them—and life, too.

The pepper bird simply cannot stay still when the sun comes up. He flutters to the housetops, fences and neighboring trees uttering his shrill, excited calls, which have come to mean "Get up." The natives, and the whites as well, can count on him, for he has been found to be dependable. He has been timed and checked, and it was found that his waking cries did not vary more than three minutes from day to day. During the hot part of the day the bird disappears in the woods.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Banking Grows More Complicated

DENVER, Colo.—The increase in the technicalities of the banking business in the past dozen years was shown by a speaker before the American Institute of Banking which held its annual convention here recently when he pointed out that in 1918, when the institute last met in this city, it gave only three courses, while today it gives 10, with more subjects in preparation. At the earlier date, he said, the curriculum of the institute consisted of elementary banking, commercial and banking law, and money and banking, whereas today it consists of banking fundamentals, commercial law, negotiable instruments, standard economics, standard banking, credits, investments, trust functions, analyzing financial statements, and public speaking, while the two new subjects of bank operation and oragnization, and bank management are to be added.

HOLDUP MAN IS BOUND TO HIGH COURT BY JUDGE

Robert Gray Taken to County Jail To Await Trial

Robert Gray, who held up the Dublin Garage a week ago last Sunday, was hailed before Judge Charles A. Gale in the Pleasanton Justice Court last week for his preliminary hearing. He was held to answer to the Superior Court for the charge of burglary placed against him.

Gray and a companion drove up to the garage about midnight, and while the attendant, Sidney Lambert, was waiting on them, Gray slugged him with a blackjack. Lambert, barely dazed by the blow, drew a gun and cornered Gray. The companion escaped.

Gray's arraignment was held two weeks ago. After his appearance in court last week. Gray, unable to raise the two-thousand dollar bail set by Judge Gale, was taken to the county jail in Oakland to await his trial.

MORE ON WATER DIRECTORS

the two local papers and signed by the secretary of the District, personally. These represented his own private opinions and were not authorized nor in any way official. In fact, the directors disagree with him on several of his statements. For instance, it is true that secrecy was at times necessary in the early days of the Water District, but only in connection with the engineering and legal data gathered. All the directors' meetings were open to the public, as required by law, and the citizens were repeatedly asked, both personally and in print, to attend and give their views, and the directors deny, except as above stated, that there was any desire for secrecy. On the contrary, they felt they had good reason to believe that the public was not interested in their meetings. However, the secretary or any other officer of the district, including even the directors, is free to express his honest opinions, and it would be a strange situation in a public utility and in a supposed democracy, if any person connected with the administration of the affairs of the District should be denied his right even to express a dissenting opinion.

Now, this does not mean at all that the directors resent any complaints or suggestions.: On the contrary, there is nothing more helpful to them than sincere constructive criticism, and they sincerely hope that many others from representative communities will set forth their views, either at meetings or in print, so that they may have the opportunity to explain the situation. It seems only fair, however, that full information be obtained before public criticism is made.

We want to thank those who have already shown such interest, and urge others to remember that there are two local papers open to public discussion, and also that the regular meetings of the board of directors are held on the first Saturday of every month at 2 p. m., in the rooms of Justice Allen Norris at Centerville. All citizens are welcome to address these meetings, or letters addressed to J. C. Shinn, president, at Niles, will be read at the following meetings.

As to the water situation, the recent rains have already coused a rising of the water in the wells which will continue as long as the water flows in Alameda creek and our engineer reports an immense storage of water in Calaveras reservoir, of which we will have our share, or percent, in the spring when we order, in the way of the accustomed "release." This release will probably be much larger than we have ever received, so we think we are safe in assuring the water users of the district that, with the good flow of Alameda creek, the stopping of the great draft by the East Bay company at Alvarado, and the big release later, we are safe for a good supply of water for the present year, and that, unless there is a great increase in the demand for watter in the valley, or some succession of dry years such as we have just passed through, we may feel that we are very safe for the future.

Board of Directors,
Alameda County Water Ditsrict,
J. C. SHINN,
President.
